

The Trump Rollback

to pre-2002 funding levels

U.S. Department of Education
Budget Request, FY2018

Education Department Total Discretionary Funding [excluding Federal Pell Grants]

The Trump Administration's fiscal year 2018 budget request for the Education Department would rollback discretionary funding (excluding Federal Pell Grants) to pre-2002 levels in current dollars, or before the onset of the No Child Left Behind Act. Public preK-12 and postsecondary enrollment has increased by 8.6 million students since 2001.

What is discretionary funding? Funding subject to the annual appropriations process. Congress decides which programs to fund and the amounts.

Why exclude Federal Pell Grants from the discretionary total? Federal Pell Grants represent about 33 percent of total Education Department discretionary funding, so the program can have an out-sized impact on changes in overall funding levels. Excluding it allows a better look at how all other programs are faring.
